Philadelphia Dermatologic Society 2026-2027

Philadelphia Dermatologic Society 2026-2027 - 11/13/2026

This CME activity focuses on a number of issues relevant to the clinical practice of dermatology including therapeutic challenges, patient safety concerns, diagnostic issues, among others.

The activity is presented in a case-based format in which diagnostically and therapeutically challenging dermatologic cases are presented to improve diagnostic accuracy and minimize potential diagnostic and management errors.

The latest evidence-based medicine will be presented in the setting of both common and rare dermatologic conditions. A variety of patient safety issues encountered in dermatology will be discussed including, but not limited to potential adverse events, near misses and diagnostic errors. The overall focus and the goal of the CME activity is to improve patient outcomes.
