

Updates in Rheumatology 2025:
Perspectives for Primary Care Providers & Other Specialists
Saturday, October 11th | 8:30 AM – 12:00 PM EST
Braemer Education Center at Jefferson Einstein Philadelphia Hospital
5401 Old York Road, Philadelphia, PA 19141

Join Course Director Dr. Irene J. Tan and a distinguished team of rheumatology experts at Jefferson Einstein Philadelphia Hospital for an engaging, half-day symposium designed specifically for non-rheumatologists.

This event will cover the latest advances in the diagnosis and management of inflammatory conditions affecting the bones, muscles, joints, and associated internal organs. These complex disorders often present diverse challenges that require a collaborative, multidisciplinary approach.

Participants will benefit from expert-led presentations and interactive discussions, gaining practical insights to enhance their clinical practice.

Why Exhibit?

Market your organization and raise brand awareness among clinicians.

Insight

Engage in meaningful discussions with attendees on the issues, trends, and innovations in pharmaceuticals and treatments.

Network

Enhance relationships and elevate your company's exposure while making new contacts.

Product Demonstration

Introduce potential clients to new products.

The exhibit hall will remain open throughout the conference. The designated times for participant interaction are listed in the exhibitor information included below. For detailed course information and to register your company, please visit the course webpage:
